'Prince Valiant' to Speak

High School Press Meets Saturday for Workshop Study

"There's a Place for You in Journalism!" is what high school journalists will be told at the eighth annual Connecticut High School Journalism Workshop sponsored by Pi Delta Epsilon, national honorary journalism fraternity, the Scribe and the University journalism department, scheduled for this Saturday from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Speaking at the awards luncheon, 12-2 p.m., on Russia Today, a film presentation, will be Marilyn Bender and Donald Wayne, editors of Parade Magazine, the Sunday supplement; Charles Peden, editor, Telenews, a division of International News Service, who will recall some big news assignments and personalities he has known and will screen some recently confiscated Chinese and Russian propaganda film.

Also appearing will be Hal Foster, cartoon creator of Prince Valiant; Bradley Kelly of King Features Syndicate; Donald Leonard, chairman of the Educational Committee, Connecticut Daily Newspapers Association and Pat Palotto, Sunday editor of the Bridgeport Post, who will extend greetings from the local press.

Presiding at the luncheon will be Prof. James Fenner and handling the introductions will be Howard Boone Jacobson, journalism department chairman.

Workshop panels, 9 a.m. to 12, deal with news and editorial problems, editing and makeup, sports and advertising production. They will be composed of high school publication staffers, and each will be moderated by a senior journalism student.

Open to all high schools in Connecticut, an All-State Newspaper Contest will award All-State and first class ratings to those newspapers which excel in makeup, news coverage, news writing, copyreading, headlines, editorials, features, sports writing, advertising, press work and typography.

The winning photos of the Kodak High School National Photo Contest and single copies of business and trade publications, courtesy of National Business Publications Association, have been on display at Alumni Hall, second floor lounge, since April 12. In addition journalism books are being exhibited in the lobby display cases in the Library.

Following the luncheon, an open house will be held for guests, alumni, and students at the new Scribe offices in Marina Hall. These new quarters include a copyreading and reporting laboratory, editor's office, business and advertising office, lecture classroom and a storage and waiting room.

Dinner Reset For Tomorrow

The annual Sociology Dinner, which had been postponed due to inclement weather has been rescheduled for tomorrow evening at 5:30 p.m. The affair, sponsored by the Sociology Colloquium and Pi Gamma Mu, will be held at Donat's Town Ho Restaurant in Milford with Prof. Emerson G. Chamberlain as master of ceremonies.

The affair is in honor of Dr. Clarence D. L. Ropp, dean of the College of Arts and Science. He has been singled out for his application of sociological principles to his position as dean.

Dean Ropp started teaching in the Junior College when classes first began in February of 1928. This year marks his 31st consecutive academic year.

Student tickets for the dinner may be purchased from members of the Sociology Colloquium and Pi Gamma Mu fraternity at $3.00; visitors' tickets are $3.50.

43 Students Will Attend Honor Dinner

Forty-three University students will be honored for scholastic achievement at the Annual Scholar's Dinner sponsored by the Council of Deans Friday, May 12 in Marina Hall.

Dean Arthur Trippensee will be guest speaker at the event which each year singles out the top ten students from each of the four classes.

The list includes: Freshmen—Peter Anard, Joan Flynn, Thomas Gordon, Ellen Grossman, Henry Kuusisto, Donna Long, Alan Newman, Nancy Ann Robel, Judith Stumpf, Dorothy Stadler and Alberta Stadler.

Twelve sophomores have been selected because of a three place tie. These are: John C. Adler, Frank J. Di Sesa, Norma Faas, Deanna Friedman, Lorrie Harner, Edith Hubbelbank, Marilyn La Penta, Joseph Luciano, Patricia Murren, Louise Niclo, Rhoda Presher and Phyllis Whitney.

Juniors named are: Joseph Baldyga, Frederick Dauer, Adrienne Frank, Ferdinand Fritzky, Sally Goldman, Lynn Kerr, William Losaw, Rodney McFarland, Richard Shepard and Frank Waters.

Seniors are: Haseph Bacevycius, Margaret Burbank, Werner Egli, Margaret Fenick, Carol Friedberg, Robert Manger, Joanne Nealon, Paul Nemerget, Harry Sinclair and Andrew Wargo.

Students are selected on the basis of class standing as of the fall term. Criteria used to determine this standing are as follows:

1. A student must have carried 12 or more semester hours in the fall term.
2. A student must have been listed on the Deans' List for the fall term.
3. A student must have attained one of the top ten cumulative quality point ratio in his class.
4. A student must not have any unconverted incomplete grades.
5. A transfer or "new start" student must have earned at the University at least 30 semester hours before the fall term.

Dr. Roucek to Tour West Germany

by Harry Nigro

A second University professor has been honored with an invitation by the German Federal Government recently to make an all expense paid tour of West Germany this summer.

Dr. Joseph S. Roucek, professor of political science and sociology, has joined Dr. Eric Marcus, professor of foreign languages, and other American educators to make the four weeks tour as special guests of the Government.

Though they have been selected to travel in separate groups, Dr. Roucek and Dr. Marcus will be given opportunities to become familiar with conditions in the new Germany and particularly in their own sphere of interests.

To University students, Dr. Roucek has not only been a lecturer and instructor, but also one whose name has appeared on scores of books used in class. His most recent editing contributions have been two books entitled "Contemporary Sociology," and "Juvenile Delinquency."

Group Competition Planned for UB Day

Prizes will be awarded to campus groups and organizations who will participate as units in the mass canvassing for funds which will highlight "UB Science Building Fund Day" May 21.

This announcement of the proposed competition among the various groups, the most recent addition to the schedule for the event, was made by Dr. Francis Dolan, chairman of the planning committee.

At a meeting held yesterday of the various campus organizations, Prof. George Stanley organized a system of possible group action and exhibited a schedule of prizes which will be awarded by local merchants and the University.

Dolan explained that while certain groups may operate as units, every individual on campus is extended the invitation to participate in the project.

Pres. James Halsey has already announced that all classes are to be cancelled on that day with faculty, staff members and students scheduled to visit prospective donors who indicate they would like to contribute to the Science Building Fund.

Harold Main, general chairman, reported that over 250 volunteers from the Bridgeport area are giving their services to the project. Division chairmen will lead canvassers into every conceivable area, including industrial, wholesale, retail, lawyers, doctors, dentists, real estate and contracting.

A kick-off dinner to officially open the fund drive will be held Wednesday, April 30, in the Gym. President Halsey announces that close to a thousand invitations to the dinner have been sent out to leaders and friends of the fund drive. Brig. Gen. Austin W. Betts, missile advisor to the Department of Defense is scheduled to deliver the keynote address on "The Place of Science Education in the Nation's Future."

Ed Chin, president of the senior class, and Vincent Caprio, Student Council president, are representing the students on the planning committee for UB Day. Chairman Dolan is assisted by faculty representatives Prof. William T. DeSiero, Prof. James Fenner, Prof. George Stanley, Prof. Albert Dickason and Mrs. Marion Lunn.

Final plans for "UB Day" will be announced next week in the Scribe.

Dolan, Marcus, Nelson Named Full University Professors

Twelve faculty promotions, including three full professorships, were announced last week by the Council of Deans. Included in the list of promotions was a chairmanship of the department of electrical engineering in the college of Engineering.

Earl Nelson received the post as head of electrical engineering along with a full professorship. Nelson was formerly a part-time instructor. He has been a consultant engineer for many years and has worked on nuclear submarines at the Electric Boat Division of General Dynamic Corp.

Dr. Francis Dolan and Dr. Eric Marcus were also elevated to the rank of full professors. Dolan was formerly associate professor of biology and Associate Director Hygiene. Marcus is chairman of the department of foreign languages.

In addition to those mentioned, Dr. David Silverstone and Dr. Carroll Palmer were given the rank of associate professors in the College of Education.

Michael Somers, biology department; Victor Swain, English; Sol Feigenbaum, physics; William DiSiero, political science and sociology; and Ernest Buchholz, Reading Laboratory were promoted to assistant professors.

Mary Vargosko, formerly a lecturer in the Weylister School, is now assistant instructor and Hugo James has been appointed instructor in biology.

The addition of Nelson, Dolan and Marcus brings the list of full professors at the University to seventeen. Others who hold full professorships are: Prof. William W. Everett, chairman of the department of biology; Prof. Clarence D.L. Ropp of the chemistry department and Dean of the College of Arts and Science; Prof. Helen M. Scurr, chairman of the English department; Prof. Charles B. Goulding of the department of English; Prof. Earle M. Bigsbee, chairman of the department of physics.

Also: Prof. Joseph S. Roucek, chairman of the sociology and political science departments; Prof. Hans Apel, chairman of the economics department; Prof. Eaton V.W. Read, chairman of the marketing department and Dean of the College of Business Administration; Prof. Anita P. Riess of the psychology department; Prof. David A. Field, Director of the Arnold College Division; Prof. Donald Parker, Director of the Reading Laboratory; Prof. Willard P. Berggren, chairman of the department of mechanical engineering; Prof. Robert H. W. Strang, Director of the Fones School of Dental Hygiene and Prof. Marie L. Jaeger, Director of the Weylister Secretarial School.

and Professor Rene Konig of the University of Cologne, Germany.

Dr. Roucek has also written the chapters on "Russian, Ukrainian Sociology," and "The Sociology in the Satellite Countries."

Under his able editorship, Dr. Roucek and his specialists have systematically analyzed the trends of the leading areas and branches of sociology in this country and abroad. This collection will serve not only as an introductory text for sociologists in all corners of the globe, but also as an invaluable reference work for all social scientists concerned with the nature and uses of sociology today.

The recent public demand to curb the rising delinquency problem has prompted Dr. Roucek and 14 leading sociologists throughout the country to write "Juvenile Delinquency." This work offers a systematic evaluation of the available experience in the whole area of juvenile delinquency.

It includes not only the various theories of its cause, but also the

Coming, Going and Talking

Dr. Ralph Pickett, chairman of the Ethics Committee, stated last week that his group is intensifying its efforts to prove or disprove that certain students have procured copies of examinations before the actual testing date. He further stated that if the charge is correct his committee will take steps to see that final exams are kept from the hands of would-be cheats. He also called on students, whom he said, "would be disturbed if they knew that such incidents occurred," to aid the committee in every way.

These are noble words, and we feel honest sentiments, but we can't help but recall T. S. Eliot's description of "over-liberal thinking" when he said, "and in the room the women come and go and talk of Michaelangelo."

Mr. Eliot was attacking an operating procedure of his time, and that procedure is still with us and the women are still talking.

The Ethics Committee, which we feel is a misnomer in that it has never discussed an ethical question in its life but rather has acted as a judicial or police force, has not faced the "final exam stealing" situation squarely. It has said to itself, this charge may be true and it may not, let's investigate, let's talk about it, let's be shocked. . . "and in the room the women come and go and talk of Michaelangelo."

The Scribe said in a previous editorial, which spurred action on this problem as the outgrowth of a letter to the editor, that the main job in protecting the student who does not cheat is to cut off all avenues of procurement that the cheaters now have available to them. We also said at that time that we were not concerned with convictions, and expulsions. We, and most honest students, simply asked that closer vigilance be used in guarding final exams on the instructors' parts.

We further feel that the Ethics Committee could have saved itself a lot of valuable time by simply telling all instructors that they might be careless in preparing final exams and that they should help honest students by making sure that copies were kept out of the cheaters' reach. No one need go and talk of Michaelangelo.

We also might say that if the "Ethics" Committee is to justifiably be called "Ethical" it can not call upon students to "turn in their brothers." We think any learned man, or ethical man, would agree with us when we say that in a study of group ethics truth has never exceeded wisdom. The student, the honest student and the culprit, are a part of a social group dealing with their own problems. In their eyes it would be "unethical" to walk into a committee meeting and say "John Doe had the exam and I am here to hang him." It is fallacious to think that such an incident would ever happen.

Honest students well know why their fellows cheat and in many incidents feel sorry for them. Caught in this interwound role of "brother's keeper" and upholder of Twentieth century "truth," he finds himself unable to act. He then turns to the people in authority and asks them not to hurt his brother, but to take steps so that brother can not hurt himself.

This then is what the students and this paper have asked for the case of final exams. They are not "disturbed" about it as Dr. Pickett seems to think, but rather they are disturbed that academicians, men who are by definition supposed to be able to cut through the semantical hogwash that often befuddles diplomats and Congressional bigwigs, start imitating the actions of lesser men.

We almost are led to believe that if the committee is unable to prove that exams have been stolen, that they will wipe away the charges and take no steps to protect final exams from pilferers. If the gentlemen of the committee think they do not have the right to take corrective action without "proof", we might suggest they look up a legal point that meant quite a bit to our Supreme Court. This was the doctrine of "clear and present danger," which implied that you didn't have to wait until foreign agents walk into the State Department and turned themselves over for prosecution before you could act. That doctrine said you had a right to protect yourself from obvious danger.

It doesn't really matter if students are stealing final exams or not, or rather whether it can be proved or not, steps could be taken to protect the exams without the coming and going and talking.

What the Ethics Committee has done is they have elevated a situation that could have been corrected administratively and without publicity to a "federal case" that will hurt more people than it will help. They have been tilted at the windmill called "truth" and have disregarded the realistic fact that any school has its cheats. "And in the room the women come and go and talk of Michaelangelo". . . but never human nature.

Sailing Club Holds First Meeting Tonight

Plans for a University Sailing Club will be discussed tonight in an organizational meeting in Alumni Hall, room 33 at 8 p. m.

Pauline Ellis, acting chairman of the group, announced that the club has secured the use of ten new dinghies from the Westport Yacht Club. These dinghies will be used by all prospective club members in anticipated intercollegiate meets.

The chairman added, "Instruction and lectures are scheduled to be given by well known sailing experts in New England. Experience in sailing is not necessary and everyone is invited to join."

Housing Rules Still in Effect

Prof. Alphonse J. Sherman reiterated the University policy that all male unmarried students who do not live with their parents must live in a college dormitory.

The special permission given to students to live off campus this spring will expire at the end of this term.

If there is an overflow of male resident students this fall, those who wish to be released must present a written request to Sherman.

Seniors who haven't lived in a college dorm will be released first. Then veterans, hardship cases, and personal cases will be considered in that order.

Off campus students may obtain a dormitory deposit form from Student Activities Office.

Banks Give $18,700 to Fund

First advance contributions amounting to $18,700 for the University Science Building Fund have been announced by Charles B. Kentnor, Jr., advance gifts chairman and Harold C. Main, general chairman of the campaign.

The Connecticut National Bank has contributed $10,000, the Bridgeport City Trust Company, $7,500 and the Black Rock Bank and Trust Company, $1,200.

Contributions were made through the fund drive's financial division, which is headed by William J. Lasher and David B. Smith.

Both Main and Kentnor expressed great satisfaction with the initial donations which they said, would, "serve to indicate the importance which is being given to this educational endeavor."

Final plans are now being completed for the community-wide drive, which will begin following the campaign kick-off dinner on April 30.

Approximately 30 members of the industrial division, under the chairmanship of H. Burling Naramore and Herman K. Beach, met Monday noon at the Stratfield Hotel for a preliminary session regarding solicitation among local industries.

Retired Profs Get New Lives

by Lorrie Harner

The professor shakes his head and considers, "Once hired; never fired; just retired; now rehired."

Confusing? Perhaps, but he is just one of many instructors who are rallying to the recent plea made to all retired college professors to "Come out, come out, wherever you are!"

According to an Intercollegiate Press bulletin, a "Retired Professors Registry" has been established by the Association of American Colleges. The Registry is an attempt to meet the shortage of qualified academic personnel.

Believing that the retired professor has merely been forced into hibernation and is not an extinct species, the Registry will compile a national directory of retired college faculty members who desire to re-enter the sunny world of textbooks and classrooms.

There is, according to the Registry, ample evidence that a substantial portion of the college and university faculty members who retire each year desire to continue in salaried teaching or research on either a full-time or part-time basis.

Rigid retirement systems, however, keep many faculty members from remaining in their present positions. The Registry will attempt to facilitate the employment elsewhere of those able to continue.

As the health of individuals improves and their life-span increases, this presents a possibility of prolonging employment beyond the present conventional ages of retirement.

In fact, the day may soon arrive when you will have seen a "centaurian" lecturing in one of your classes.

Unlike the "old soldier," the retired professor needn't "fade away," he may go on, and on, and on, and on. . .

Ten Years Ago at UB

(From our files - April 16, 1948) Linden Hall, the seventh student dormitory on the campus, was opened last week. It will house 23 men.

Dr. Francis E. Dolan, formerly associate director of admissions at the University, has been appointed to succeed Earl H. Bigsbee who was recently named Dean of the Junior College of Connecticut.

The Wistarian will be dedicated to Dr. Helen M. Scurr, chairman of the English department and professor of English.

The Student Ethics Committee, which has met for seven weeks on the subject of student cheating, has disbanded.

Pres. James H. Halsey is scheduled to throw out the first pitch of the opening game this Friday.

The Riding Club has held three rides since the beginning of the semester.

The naming of Chet Gladchuk, former New York Giant center, as head football coach was final proof that President Halsey and the other University officials are as much interested in building the best possible foundation for varsity football on our campus as were the thousand or more students who attended the recent rally.

Dr. Anita Riess, assistant professor of psychology, will attend the annual meeting of the Eastern Psychological Association at Philadelphia.

Ten UB-ites Tour Bermuda

by Polly Ponder

Pink sands, calypso music, bar-b-q's and rum swizzle—sound good? "Was great!" reported ten University students who spent Spring vacation reveling in Bermuda's College Week festivities.

This is the second year that a group from the University has taken part in this newly ordained collegiate holiday week.

The temporary "Bermudites" are: Ileen Crowley, Marilyn Koslow, Dorothy Meketa, Mary Jane Meany, Sandy Fish, Shirley Sabo, Norene Farrell, Ann Grancaji, Brian O'Gorman and Fred Reichert.

Sightseer Ann Grancaji

While commenting on his trip, Reichert claimed that the "man-powered" bicycle as we know it is fast declining in popularity on the island. He contends that the motor bike has taken its place and he's had experience with them. Despite the fact that his motor bike caught fire and almost exploded one evening, he still favors them.

As for where they traveled on their motor bikes, Sandy Fish listed cruises, watersports and beach parties as just a few of the activities their motor bikes carried them to and from. "And there really is pink sand," she exclaimed, "I even brought some home with me."

Although Bermuda is reputed to be tax free, there is one tax no tourist escapes. It is a $2.80 "head tax" placed on all human beings exported (not deported) with no regard to size, shape or form.

Luckily (?) all of the University students had at least $3.00 left and no one had to stay behind. They are all attending classes, displaying their tan and relating the events of their gala vacation.

The cost of the trip was covered in one fee which included: round trip plane fare, room, two meals daily, tips and activities. The Marcus Hirsch and Barnum Travel Agencies handled the arrangements.

Annual B-Day Set for May 2

Eugene Dowling and Rachel Smith, co-chairmen of the annual Bridgeport Day Committee, announced that City Hall will open its doors to University students May 2.

Students will elect a mayor, a president of the Common Council and eight aldermen. Other administrative positions will be appointed by the student mayor.

Nomination forms are available at the Student Activities Office in Alumni Hall and must be submitted no later than April 21. Elections will be held on April 24 and 25 and the victorious candidates will be notified by April 28. Any full time student in good standing with the University may run for office.

The fifth annual Bridgeport Day, sponsored by the Political Relations Forum, will begin at 9 a.m. and participants will be excused from classes.

Last year Edmund Clark, a sophomore majoring in psychology, was elected mayor for a day. Ed stated, "Bridgeport Day is an event that I will always remember. I urge students to take part in this activity because they will find it quite stimulating and informative. They will become more acquainted with the inner workings and organization of city government. This I consider an education in itself."

Spring Concert Set for April 27

Performances by the 50-piece University-Community Orchestra and the A Cappella Choir will highlight the music department's annual Spring concert to take place at the Gym on Sunday, April 27 at 4 p.m.

Featured, also, will be a solo performance by pianist Rosemary Tancredi, sophomore music major, on the University's new Steinway piano.

The first performance of an original choral composition by Prof. Harold Dart will be offered by the A Cappella Choir.

Announcement of the first recipient of a scholarship established by members of the UB-Community Orchestra will also take place.

Convocation credit will be given.

Sen. Benton Named to Post

Sen. William Benton was elected to membership on the board of trustees at the University of Bridgeport, at the annual spring meeting of the group at the University Friday, Alfred V. Bodine, chairman of the board announced.

Long active as a government official and publisher and deeply interested in education, Senator Benton was instrumental in setting up a two-day conference at Yale University in February to discuss, "America's Human Resources to Meet the Scientific Challenge."

A U. S. Senator from Connecticut in 1945-47, Benton is the publisher of Encyclopedia Britannica and president of the William Benton Foundation.

Report Okays Large Classes

by Quincy Culhane

The size of many college classes loss in effectiveness, according to an Intercollegiate Press report of a study held at Fordham University.

College freshmen and sophomores in the basic sociology, economics and political science courses were the subjects for the experiment. In each of the courses a section of 30 students was paired with a section of 60. The paired sections were carefully equalized according to the student's past academic average and related factors.

Each pair was taught the same syllabus by one of the cooperating teachers. . . each of whom is noted for a dynamic teaching style. Objective tests were devised to measure the students' mastery of course content, alertness to public affairs and ability to place public issues in a full con-

Test results, statistically analyzed, showed no significant difference in the performance of the large and small classes in any of the three courses. "The large class equalled the small class in terms of Fordham's major objectives in the social science curriculum," the team's final report stated.

Recognizing that a single experiment was not completely conclusive, the researchers "unhesitatingly" approved resorting to larger classes when an urgent need was present. A possible aid in meeting the crisis expected when the "bulge" of college students arrives in the 1960's on understaffed campuses was also foreseen.

Pres. James H. Halsey

come a trustee of the recently established Institute for American Universities at Aix-en-Provence, France.

The institute, which is affiliated with the University of Aix-Marseille, offers English language instruction to American college students who wish to live in France for one year. "It introduces them to the languages, culture, and history of the major European countries, and prepares them for careers in international relations, foreign trade and the like," President Halsey said.

President Halsey became interested in the project because of his own concern with the education of Americans in Europe and with international problems. He is the American representative of the MacJannet Campus at Lake Annecy in the French Alps.

UB Nine Meets St. Peter's Today in Seaside Park Fray

The University's baseball nine will entertain St. Peter's College today at Seaside Park at 2 p.m. The game will be the second league test for the Purple Knights who played their opener on Tuesday against Fairleigh Dickinson University in their first home engagement.

The Collegiate Baseball League officially began operations on Monday when St. Peter's journeyed to East Orange, N.J., to take on Upsala College.

The UB nine had three scheduled contests last week but the Long Island game to be played on April 12 at Ebbets Field was cancelled due to inclement weather. It will be played on May 9.

The Purple Knights launched the season on a favorable note, defeating Hunter College, 3-2. A neat four-hitter by Bernie "Skip" DePace coupled with a sensational catch by Charley Milot in the final frame turned the trick.

Although DePace struck out 14 batters he was in constant trouble because of his inability to get the ball over, walking nine hitters en route to his first win of the campaign.

Trailing 1-0 in the fifth the big righthander helped his own cause, doubling up the left centerfield alley to start the frame. After Tony Granger went out, John Giampaolo walked and both rode home on a single by Charley Doyle when the centerfielder's throw got through the catcher.

The Knights scored what proved to be the winning marker in the next frame when consecutive singles by Bob Sveda, John Aslan and Ron Osborne produced a run.

In the Adelphi game the Long Island nine jumped to a quick 2-0 lead off Dick Fritzson, who started on the mound. The diminutive righthander had trouble with his control and was replaced by Bob Sullivan in the fourth.

The Purple Knights knotted the count at 2-2 in the third inning. Granger, who went hitless in the opener, got the first of his two hits to open the frame. Pike doubled Granger home and the shortstop rode home on Giampaolo's bingle. In all the locals could only muster six hits which were made by the trio who figured in the scoring. Each had two hits apiece.

Adelphi countered with two in its half of the third to take the lead for keeps. From then on Sullivan pitched creditable ball, allowing a lone tally in the eighth.

The Junior Knights will open the season this Saturday on the road when they play Trinity College at 2 p.m. In all Fran Poisson's lads have 11 engagements and on Wednesday, April 23, they have a home date with the Hofstra yearlings at 2 p.m.

Arnold Reunion Planned for May 3

The Arnold College Division will hold its annual "Reunion Day" Saturday, May 3, in the Gym, according to Dr. David A. Field, director.

The day will be highlighted by feature speaker Dr. Dwight Monnier, an Arnold graduate who is affiliated with the Health Department of Boston. Monnier's speech, "Some implications of American Aid to Countries of Southeast Asia with emphasis on India and Pakistan," will follow an evening dinner banquet.

Registration will commence at 10:00 a.m. in the Gym. There will be a tour of the campus, demonstrations in the Gym including a badminton demonstration, which will consist of two single games and one mixed doubles. Also included in the demonstration will be a Gymnastic exhibition put on by the Arnold Troupers, a folk dance demonstration by the Junior Class of physical education under the direction of Catherine Yocum, Assistant Professor of physical education and "tumbling and trampoline demonstration by students of Somers Junior High School under the direction of James McKenzie, a graduate of 1956.

At 4:00 there will be a social hour followed by the evening dinner banquet. This year the Alumni Award will be awarded to Carl Veith for outstanding work in elementary schools in physical education in the last twenty years. Also to be awarded is the Dr. E.H. Arnold Alumni Award to the man and woman in the senior class who exemplify the spirit of the late Dr. Arnold. The recipients of the award this year are Gary Engler and Judith Carr.

Dr. Monnier will speak following the banquet.

Some of the most outstanding alumni of Arnold College are expected to attend Reunion Day. Included are Andy Robustelli, pro footballer; Barry Mangum, Oregon researcher; Alvin Clinkscapes, player for the Harlem Globe Trotters; Howard McKee, physical education supervisor at Patchogue, L.I.; and Salvatore Verderame, head basketball coach at Wilbur Cross, recent New England Champions.

Probably the most distinguished of the illustrious group is Robustelli. The former Arnold end made the grade with the Los Angeles Rams after his graduation. Playing with stars like Bob Waterfield, Elroy "Crazy Legs" Hirsch, and Tom Fears, Robustelli and his mates won divisional titles and a league championship before coming to New York and playing with the New York Giants in 1956.

'Whit', Graze To Lead K-Men

Walt "Kay" Kondratovich, coach of the track team, announced that Dick Whitcomb and Bob Graze, the No. 1 and No. 2 point getters on last year's team, respectively, have been elected co captains of this year's edition.

The Purple Knights commence activities tomorrow in a meet against Upsala College at Seaside Park at 2 p.m.

Kondratovich expects to improve on last year's 1-4 record, three were lost by a total of six points and he banks his optimism on eight newcomers to bolster the returning lettermen which numbers nine.

Included in the former list is George Dixon who figures to take some of the burden that was shouldered by Whitcomb. With Dixon running the 100 and 220 Whitcomb can concentrate on the hurdles. Last year the new co-captain was called on for extra duty throughout the campaign and did a commendable job, according to his mentor.

Dixon couldn't enter last year's competition because a Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference ruling prevents a player from competing until he catches up to his respective class. (At Arnold TRACK College he played one football game as a sophomore before he entered the service.)

The lettermen are: Whitcomb, Graze, Don Scott, Al West, Jim O'Hara, Bill Barstow, Jim Cassel, George Dieter and Bill Springer.

Newcomers are: Dixon, Dennis Williams, David Van Tosh, Ed Wysocki, Harold Kent, Art Wright, Len Ledet and Dick Roth.

The schedule: April 18-Upsala, home; 30-Fairleigh Dickinson, away; May 3 New Haven S.T.C., home; 7-Adelphi, home; 10-Collegiate Track Conference Meet, at Adelphi; 15-Fairfield, away.

Along Park Place

by Vinny Caprio

While basking in the Bermuda sunlight during the vacation, Sandy Fish, Noren Farrell and Shirley Sabo were pleasantly surprised one a.m. A derelict beach-comber turned out to be none other than Fred "Who's buying me dinner?" Reichert.

Now Hear This!!! The radio version of Along Park Place, heard Monday nights from 9-9:30 on WNAB, will feature a Mystery Voice personality. The voice will be that of a UB student, and clues given to his identity or hers, whichever the case may be. The winner will be the recipient of an L.P. record album. John Metcalf, UB's answer to the disc jockeys, said that the postcard bearing the earliest time will be the winner. The "Mystery Voice" will remain the same until properly identified. Send your cards to John Metcalf, Radio Station WNAB, Bridgeport, Connecticut.

"I'm lost," claimed Micky Etter, when she found herself outside of 410 West End Avenue last Friday night. Two former UB students revived her and brought her back to these hollow halls of ivory.

The congratulations of all are sent to the new officers of the Marketing Club. Newly elected are: Murray Schwartz, President, Ed Delventhal, Veep, Dave Godere, Scribe, Carl Roethemel, Treasurer and Bill Kresge, Placement Officer.

The long and torrid love affair between TE's Mary Kay McGrath and AGP's Tom Thompson has culminated in their pinning. Perhaps this will put an end to the hour-long good nights?? (Oh! Is he serious.) Mary Kay is a D.H. advocate while Tom is all for antiquity.

One of the highlights of Beta Gamma's splendid affair Friday night was the betrothal announcement of Ronnie Bender to Janice Morganroth. Our sincere best wishes to both are sent with all the others. Ronnie is a physical education major, and Janice has had her experience with coffee making.

Mrs. Marion Lunn, our able director of social activities, has been having some social activities of her own lately. This we dare to conjecture after noticing the sparkler on the third finger left hand. Best of luck, Mrs. Lunn, and to the lucky man we send our congratulations.

"A Swinging Affair" is the name OSR has chosen to call its first social event since becoming a member of UB's list of Greek organizations. The lads have planned an extensive intermission show which, if half as good as the claims, should prove to be part of an enjoyable night.

The wind is the only excuse

George Montuer can find to explain playing golf in the rough so much. George can't keep his ball on the fairways.

Tom Cupo of POC and Joan Kaplan of PDR have been a steady duo of late. Intimates claim this fire is burning strong and will last.

Joey Goldberg of SOS has lost his heart and fraternity pin to lovely Carey Wolin. Carey is a Weylister girl and Joe a muscle-building advocate.

There must be at least a million deterrents to that chaotic bliss called matrimony. However, John Panula has shed the light on a new one. He has informed us that they even investigate you before you can get married. That committee on unAmerican activities gets its nose into everything.

Another Greek organization proves to one and all that it offers advantages aside from a good social life. Theta Epsilon Sorority has been and will be collecting funds for the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation. Congratulations girls!

Nurses Start Field Training

Students in the College of Nursing have begun their practical training in the psychiatric and clinical fields.

Sophomores are training at Bridgeport Hospital while juniors moved to Norwich last Monday to train at the state mental hospital.

Dean Martha P. Jayne of the College of Nursing said that the training at the Norwich institution affords an opportunity for the student to work with mentally disturbed patients and to view various types of mental disorders.

In addition, Dean Jayne has announced that Nancy Swanson and Patricia Murren have been elected to represent the University College of Nursing at the National Student Nurses' Meeting to be held in Atlantic City on June 6 to 9.

The College of Nursing annually elects two students to represent the University at the convention to meet and confer with students on a national basis.

It was also announced that Dean Jayne was one of two Connecticut delegates chosen to attend the New England Conference of the North Atlantic Division of the National League of Nursing.

WHO'S GOING TO EUROPE?
(SEE PARAGRAPH AT RIGHT)

BON VOYAGE presents? You might give a substantial checking account in the Left Bank of Paris. A deck of cards for playing London Bridge. Or walking shoes in which to Rome Italy. Better yet, give Luckies—and make your present a Partin' Carton! A Lucky, after all, is the best-tasting cigarette anywhere. In Paris you hear, "Un Luckee? C'est merveilleux!" (That's French!) Roughly translated, it means: it's all fine, light, good-tasting tobacco, toasted to taste even better. (That's advertising!) Just light up a Lucky and see for yourself! (Now, that's smart!)
